I am Barry Rodewald. I am a member of MAMEdev and am maintainer of WolfMAME. I occasionally submitted code to MAME and it's then sister project MESS, until joining MESSdev (and eventually MAMEdev) around 2006.

I have developed arcade emulators since the late 90's, in particular GalEMU (Galaxian hardware emulator) and QPlayer (Capcom QSound audio emulator).

Also, I am an editor at the MAME Action Replay Page (MARP), having joined the site in late 1998 and maintain our INP analysis tools.

I have read Mr. Fokkens' paper, and find the information in it accurate and well-detailed. I agree with its findings.
